

The Herds

A D L
R S W
L L S

Follow life-size puppet animals as they rampage through Stratford on their global journey from the Congo Basin to the Arctic Circle

About This Event

Public art and climate action on a vast scale – THE HERDS is an ambitious coming together of culture and climate to inspire action and reignite our connection with the natural world. From April to August 2025, the animals are traveling a 20,000 km route, symbolizing their flight from climate disaster.

THE HERDS will come body to body, hoof to arm, horns to head with dancers from Sadler's Wells as they journey through East London. Featuring specially commissioned choreography by Associate Artist Alesandra Seutin, dancers try to stop the animals in every possible way.

Join us for this special moment of wild wonder from the creators of The Walk with Little Amal, as the animals of THE HERDS convey the ferocity and beauty of nature – proud, elegant, frightened and graceful. Please read the accessibility information for locations.

*THE HERDS: a public art and climate action project from The Walk Productions.
Produced by David Lan and Tracey Seaward. Created by Amir Nizar Zuabi with Executive Producer Sarah Loader.*

In partnership with Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park, Sadler's Wells, Stratford Cross, Stratford Shopping, Westfield Stratford City, UCL: University College London

Event Time

Sun,
29th Jun
2025

3:00pm - 4:00pm

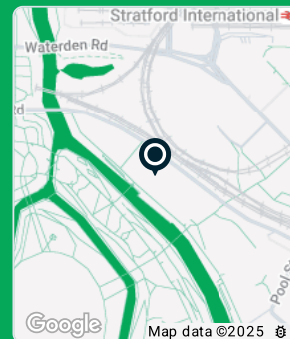

Event Price

Free

Event Location

The Dance Floor
Sadler's Wells East,
Stratford Walk,
London,
E20 2AR

Accessibility Information

This event will take place outdoors. THE HERDS will travel through Westfield Stratford City to Sadler’s Wells East before disappearing into Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park.
IMPORTANT: Please make sure you are at the Stratford Walk entrance

