

The Travels and Scents of Plants

As part Hackney Central Library Reopening Programme Hackney Circle members are invited to a special workshop looking at plant migration, linking to the new Library mural.

About This Event

Come join this workshop, where we will awaken our sense of smell through experiencing the wonderful scents of plants and flowers. Catherine, the workshop facilitator, will introduce a wide variety of plant oils and explain each of their uses and health benefits, as well as where they originate and how they got here. After sampling each of the fragrances, participants will have the opportunity to choose their favourite plant oil, to take home in a small bottle.
